

We welcome you to join

Family Matters Group

Are you supporting a loved one who is using alcohol and/or drugs, or worried about the use of somebody you care about?

Come along to our free Family Matters Group. Each week, our experienced counsellors will guide you through a different topic that is designed for family members and significant others. In this safe and supportive environment, you will be welcome to share your experiences and learn from others who are in similar situations.

The group offers an opportunity to:

Learn more about alcohol and other drugs, and treatments available.

Learn how to best support yourself.

Learn how to best support your loved one.

Connect with others who are in a similar situation in a safe and supportive environment.
